WHAT IT DOES:

We tend to forget about our armpits and the hard work they do. These patches of skin, home to hundreds of sweat glands help control our body temperature and expel toxins through perspiration. So, the least we can do is give them a helping hand (or finger) and rub some natural Axilla Deodorant Paste into them.

Our unique blend of natural and organic ingredients target and effectively neutralise odour without harmful chemicals or sweat blockers. This means your body can continue to do what it does naturally without smelling funky.

Frequently Asked Questions:

How often do I reapply Axilla Deodorant Paste?

A ½ a pea sized amount of Axilla in the morning, generally lasts throughout the day.

Why does the consistency change?

Axilla is made from 100% natural ingredients. Natural ingredients are affected by significant changes in temperature like direct heat. Store Axilla at room temperature. If Axilla is placed in direct sunlight either from a windowsill or from sitting in a bag outside in the sun, it will soften. The product will not lose its effectiveness if this happens. Just give it a stir and pop it in a refrigerator until it becomes firm again, then store it at room temperature.

Why doesn't the paste come with an application stick?

We know it can feel a bit weird at first rubbing the paste into your armpits, the main reason being many of us have become 'used to' not touching our underarms with our hands like we do when applying products to our face, bodies or feet. It is just unfamiliar because you haven't done it before but it will soon become familiar.

Why is it called Axilla Deodorant Paste?

Ax-il-la is the latin name for Armpit – the home to hundreds of sweat glands that help control your body temperature and work tirelessly to expel harmful toxins from your body through perspiration.

Can I use it on my smelly feet?

Yes, a tiny amount between toes does wonders we're told.

What's its shelf life (unopened and opened)?

Unopened Axilla will last 2 years and once opened its best to use it within 12 months.

How long will a 75g jar last?

This depends on how much you use and how often you use it but feedback from customers is usually 3-4 months with daily use.

Will it leave marks on clothes?

When rubbed in thoroughly it will dissolve and will not mark clothing.

How will you know if you're sensitive to the bicarbonate soda in the product?

Some people do experience sensitivity to the Sodium Bicarbonate, however in many instances it can be overcome. Everyone's body chemistry is different. Avoid applying Axilla directly after shaving under arms or when they are red or irritated, don't apply too much and don't rub too hard when applying it. If there's some tenderness or even a slight rash, smoothing on coconut oil or Balm of Ages at night and before applying Axilla in the morning can help your skin adjust.
